To help insure optimum classroom success, it is our desire that all students have access to a complete breakfast and lunch. Since the downturn in the economy, some financial situations may have changed. Please be aware that free and reduced price school meals remain available for all qualifying students. If you believe that your child now qualifies for assistance, please contact your child's teacher, principal or cafeteria manager. Sue Hamm, Jefferson City Schools Food Services Director, is also available for assistance and can be reached at (706) 367-2546. All information is held in strict confidence and used only for determining eligibility.

The chart printed below depicts the income eligibility requirements for free/reduced meals.

Sincerely,

Howard McGlennen
Principal
